

EMDR UK HYBRID CONFERENCE – GLASGOW 2023

ACCESSIBILITY ARRANGEMENTS IN PLACE

The conference committee have made the following arrangements for the forthcoming conference to ensure accessibility/inclusivity for all delegates attending in person or remotely - we appreciate further considerations may be required and will endeavour to make any reasonable adjustments /additions on request.

Glasgow 2023:

- Hybrid Conference
- Wheelchair access and wheelchair accessible facilities at venue
- Board members allocated as 'room monitors' to assist when required, they will be identified on their name badge
- Named reserved seating for delegates with sight, hearing impairment, limited mobility, or need of easy access to exit etc
- Allocated seating for carer, as required
- Hearing Induction Loop
- Allocated quiet room e.g. For breast feeding, medical needs, faith reasons, etc
- Catering is exclusively vegetarian and vegan and other diets will be catered for, if possible, it is requested that the venue provide locally sourced food
- The telephone number below is available for delegates to contact the conference management team (Eyas), or if preferred by email see below, throughout the conference process and event, in case of emergencies for delegates attending in person and remotely
- Board member available, in addition to technicians, for delegates attending remotely
- Room monitors allocated throughout the conference to assist presenters and delegates
- Eyas team members will be available at the reception desk for the duration of the live conference and will try to accommodate any delegate requests that arise on the days of the event
- The EMDR UK Association has a stand at conferences with board members will be available during refreshment breaks to meet delegates and provide support if required
- Conference keynote and workshop presenters at the point of commissioning have been reminded to be attentive and sensitive to the language used in their presentations. They have also been sent guidance on improving PowerPoint accessibility and have been requested to include subtitles on presented video material.
- Presenters have also been requested where possible to provide slides in advance in different formats
- The conference brochure can be made available, in different versions, e.g., large print, contrasting colour etc

Queries/requests contact via email emdr@eyas.co.uk or telephone [01234 775561](tel:01234 775561)

Conference Committee
November 2022